CAPTAIN ISSUES DEED.

He Did Not Intentionally Ignore Schooner's Distress Signals.

Norfolk, Va., March 8.—A jury in the Federal Court yesterday brought in a verdict awarding $15,000 to the plaintiff in the suit of Mrs. Louella Gillette, administratrix, against the Norfolk and Western Railway. She sued for $20,000 under the employer's liability act, because of the death of her husband, A. F. Gillespie, an engineer killed in a wreck at Cleveland, in the County, June 5, 1913. The jury was out two hours.

After the reading of the verdict and the usual motions were heard, the court decided that the defendant be allowed one week in which to file an answer to the verdict and ask for a new trial. The plaintiff is allowed one week to file an answer to the defendant's motion. It is said there was no difference of opinion on the verdict, except as to the amount of damages. Discussion at that point it is said, ranged from $15,000 to $20,000.

The verdict awards the award one-half to the widow and one-half to be divided equally among four children. The children range in age from two to fourteen years, the eldest being a boy.

MILLET'S PAINTINGS SOLD

Works of Victim of Titanic Disaster Bring $5,947.

New York, March 8.—The finished paintings, drawings and studies of the late Frank Millet, one of the victims of the Titanic, the painter known best by his mural work, member of the National Academy and an important member of different committees of the Metropolitan Art Museum, were sold at the American Art Galleries last night, bringing $5,947, of which the signed pencil drawings brought $392.

There were ninety-three numbers altogether. The finished pictures were few, and the oil sketches, many of them Italian and very charming, with a number of interiors, were not large.

"Wandering Thoughts," a study of Millet's two important finished pictures, brought the highest price of the sale, going to Miss E. E. Wellington, for $1,425.

The "Portrait of a Dutchman," the last portrait painted by Mr. Millet, was sold for $110.

So much of Millet's work has been done in mural decoration that there was hardly a standard of prices for his paintings.

WOMAN KILLS HERSELF.

Driven to Suicide by Brooding Over Ill Health.

Ashville, N. C., March 8.—Mrs. Arthur Ruffy, who resides near Salda, committed suicide here to-day at the home of Mrs. J. E. Keener, a relative, shooting herself twice just below the heart.

Mrs. Ruffy was in poor health and had been brooding over her condition ever since her arrival here three weeks ago. Attracted by the shots, her relatives found the woman stretched on the floor, the weapon still clutched in her hand. She died a few hours later. Slight cuts on her throat and an open razor in the room gave rise to the belief that she first attempted to cut her throat and, when her nerve failed, she turned to the revolver with which she shot herself. She is survived by a husband and four children.

WILL PROTECT SON FROM HIS FATHER

Mother Says She Will Never Permit Harold to See Ferdinand Pinney Earle Again.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]

Romoranin, France, March 8.—Ferdinand Pinney Earle and his companion, Miss Charlotte Hermann, were released from prison shortly after midnight this morning, and went at once to the Hotel Lion d'Or, where they retired immediately. Late in the day they started for Hlois.

Earle seemed tongue-tied when questioned as to his future plans. His lawyer, M. De Brugler, advised him not to talk while the subject of his expulsion was pending.

Earle has the opportunity of leaving France voluntarily," said the lawyer, "which would be the wisest thing for him to do under the circumstances."

According to the view of Mme. Fischbacher's lawyer, yesterday's judgment makes Earle's status before the French courts such that he can never successfully apply for permission to see his child again. Mme. Fischbacher said with great vehemence that she would never again permit Harold to see his father.

"If Earle makes any attempt to interview his son," said she, "steps will be taken immediately to have him pronounced insane and confined in an asylum."

Mrs. Sidford Earle, who was standing nearby, took occasion to deny the report that she had kissed Earle when he was being taken out of the courtroom yesterday. "I kissed in my ear the word 'heart,'" she said. "It was foolish, of course, but I was intensely provoked at seeing him salute his first wife with the audacity of which he alone is capable. I would rather see my two babies dead than in his care."

Mrs. Earle's representative in New York, continued Mme. Fischbacher, "have been instructed to begin proceedings to get my $14,000 damages out of Earle's New York real estate. He is in such financial straits as to be penniless. His income is still quite comfortable."

SMALLPOX CASES IN VALLEY TOWN

Dr. Flannagan Investigating Situation in Strasburg—Historic Building Damaged.

Winchester, Va., March 8.—Dr. Roy K. Flannagan, of the Virginia Board of Health, has been spending several days at Strasburg, Shenandoah County, investigating the smallpox situation in that town. He has urged all the people living in the Shenandoah Valley counties to be vaccinated at once as a precautionary measure. He states that inoculation is far more effective than quarantine measures by local authorities. Dr. Flannagan also stated that the disease is now prevalent in fifty of the 100 counties of the State. Few deaths, however, have occurred. The towns of Edinburg and New Market have quarantined against Strasburg, and it is expected other towns in that section of the Virginia Valley will take similar action. Several cases of the disease have developed during the past few days in the eastern part of Rockingham County.

It has just been discovered that the historic building in which Major-General Daniel Morgan, the Revolutionary hero, lived and died, was damaged by the recent storm which struck Winchester with terrific force. Several of the large stone chimneys were blown down, and one crashed through a cistern. Some of the windows were knocked completely out, and water pipes burst, adding to the damage. The house, which is now owned and occupied by Miss Elizabeth Sherrard, is situated on a hill on Amherst Street, and it was built for General Morgan by Boston prisoners in the latter part of the eighteenth century.

First Steamer Since February 15.

Fredericksburg, Va., March 8.—The steamer Middlesex from Baltimore, arrived here last evening, being the first steamer to reach here since February 15, owing to ice on the Rappahannock River. The steamer brought a large quantity of accumulated freight and a large number of passengers. The steamer left here on schedule time to-day for the return trip to Baltimore, and it is expected that the schedule will now be continuing without interruption.

One of these bridges is to take the place of the long "Blahop" Bridge, and the other is to supplant the shorter temporary structure connecting the city with Lochmont, to cost about $12,000. Both bridges are to be of concrete and steel, and of the "girder" plan. The larger bridge is to be of imposing structure.

Major Winslow also gave his approval of the plan to improve River Street, and advised the city to go ahead in this work, without reference to the United States Army.

Mason Smith, of this city, has successfully passed the examination for appointment as first lieutenant of the Medical Reserve Corps of the United States Army.

News of Petersburg

The Times-Dispatch Bureau, 5 Bollingbrook Street (Telephone 1185).

Petersburg, Va., March 8, 1914.

The "five-days" campaign to raise an additional $40,000 for the erection of the new hotel on West Tabb Street will begin to-morrow morning. There are seven committees, each with a captain and lieutenant, to do the work of soliciting subscriptions to the stock, and the outlook is bright for success. Each evening at 6:30 o'clock the committees will meet at headquarters, for the purpose of making report of the work of the day. The work is being pushed actively, and it is believed that at the close of the fifth day that gratifying announcement will be heard that the full amount, and probably more, has been subscribed and that the hotel is assured.

Communion Government.

Should the Brewery-Featherston bill allowing cities of certain population to change their form of government become a law, Petersburg may take advantage of it, and change to a simpler form than the one now existing. There has long been a strong sentiment among the people in favor of commission government, though the matter has not been actively acted. There seems no question that the requisite number of signatures to a petition for an election to enable the people to vote on the matter of a change of government could be readily secured, and it is believed the vote in favor of a change would be favorable.

Plans for Two Bridges.

The city is soon to begin work on the construction of two bridges over the Appomattox River, the plans for which have been approved by the Council, City Engineer Budd and Major Winslow.

One of these bridges is to take the place of the long "Blahop" Bridge, and the other is to supplant the shorter temporary structure connecting the city with Lochmont, to cost about $12,000. Both bridges are to be of concrete and steel, and of the "girder" plan. The larger bridge is to be of imposing structure.

Major Winslow also gave his approval of the plan to improve River Street, and advised the city to go ahead in this work, without reference to the United States Army.

Will Not Be a Candidate.

Delegate Robert W. Price, of this city, who has frequently been mentioned as a probable candidate for Mayor of Petersburg, announces that he is not an aspirant for the office, and will not be a candidate. He prefers to devote his attention to his duties in the Legislature and to important matters of State legislation. No opposition has yet developed to Mayor Cabanis, and it is probable none will develop.

Bishop Randolph Confirms.

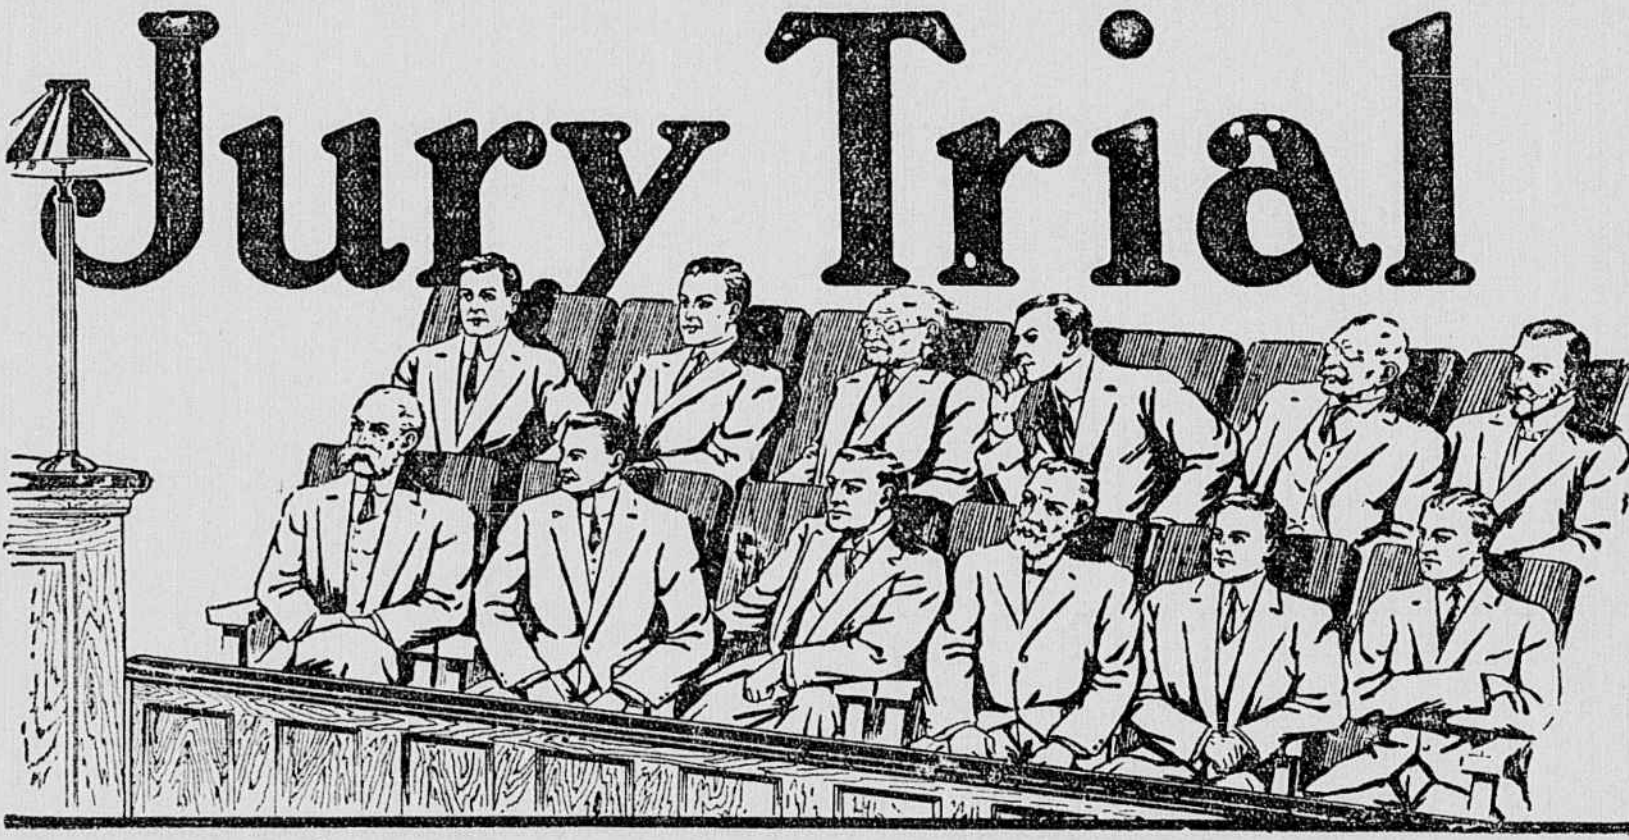

The Rt. Rev. A. M. Randolph, D. D., Bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, preached to a very large congregation this morning at St. Paul's Church, and administered confirmation to a class of seventeen candidates presented by the rector, the Rev. E. P. Dandridge—twelve females and five males. The bishop preached a strong and impressive sermon, and delivered an address to the class after confirmation on the solemnity of the vow they had taken and on the life they should lead. Bishop Randolph preached and administered confirmation to-night at the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Overwhelming Verdict

A few months ago, a man in no way connected with the making of Postum or the marketing of coffee, wrote to quite a number of physicians all over the country asking their unbiased testimony in the case of Postum vs. Coffee.

The following excerpts from their letters constitute an overwhelming verdict

In Favor of Postum

"I have discarded coffee altogether in my family, and instead use Postum, which we find makes a rich, delicious drink, without any of the deleterious effects attendant on the continuous use of coffee."

"Our family have been users of Postum for a long time. We were very liberal coffee drinkers, but were conscious that coffee was harming us—our nervous system, digestion and heart action—so we quit the coffee and began using Postum. Now we relish it far more than we did coffee, and are all relieved of the old coffee troubles. As a physician I have induced several families to quit coffee and use Postum."

"Postum—when it is desirable to leave off coffee on account of over-stimulation or gastric disturbances."

"Postum has been used in my family nearly ever since it was placed on the market, and I recommend it to my patients. It is a nourishing drink. A great many families are giving their children Postum in place of coffee with best of results."

In the light of such testimony it would seem the part of wisdom to stop coffee and use Postum.

Postum is a genuine food-drink, made of whole wheat and a small per cent of molasses. Contains the nutritious values of the grain, but is pure and absolutely free from the coffee drug, caffeine, or any other harmful substance.

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum—must be well boiled to bring out its fine flavor. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—a soluble form. A teaspoonful stirred in a cup of hot water—with sugar and cream added—makes a delightful beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins. The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

"I have used Postum in my family for years with the most satisfactory result—so much so that we have practically abolished coffee, and with it the coffee headaches, nervousness and lying awake the best part of the night."

"I drink Postum every morning, and recommend it to my friends who have 'nerves' and indigestion."

"No more coffee for me. I am using Instant Postum and advise my patients to do likewise. I prefer it to the best coffee, and have no more sour stomach attacks as I used to."

"For years I have been using Postum in the family and advocating it for my patients. I consider it to be exactly what its manufacturers claim for it. Postum is excellent in place of coffee where the latter is contraindicated. The food value of Postum plays an important part when compared with coffee."

"Have had many cases that could not drink coffee on account of its reflex action on the heart. Postum always supplies the place of coffee without the bad effects."

"I have used Postum for the past eight years in place of coffee. Before that I was troubled with frequent bilious headaches due to excessive use of coffee, and was then advised to use Postum. Since that time I have not had a single attack, which effect I attribute entirely to Postum. I frequently recommend it to others who experience equally gratifying results."

"Hardly a week goes by that I do not advise some patient with an irritable, acid stomach and nervous heart to stop at once the use of all coffee and take up the use of Postum, and always with good results."

"I am satisfied that coffee is responsible in a great degree for the premature breakdown of our active men and women. They suffer from caffeine poisoning. Of the truth of this there is not the shadow of a doubt. Our common sense tells us that the daily swallowing of caffeine—over-stimulating the heart and brain—will be followed by nervous depression, and finally by more or less disastrous results. I believe if people in general would use Postum as a beverage in place of coffee and tea their mental and physical condition would be much improved."
